Ros Harvey

Ros Harvey comes from the Inishowen peninsula in Co. Donegal, where she paints the wild elements of the coastline.

In the 70's Ros was a well known potter in Dublin, with three major two-man shows in the Davis Gallery with batik artist, Bernadette Madden. She was a prize winner in the RDS Craft Show and has created many small sculptures in clay and bronze.

Due to a back operation in 1981 Ros abandoned her ceramics career and moved into two-dimensional media, making paintings and prints. She exhibits widely throughout Ireland and has had shows in Italy, Germany, The Netherlands, France, Britain and the USA. She is also a member of the Pastel Society of Ireland.

Ros has illustrated six books, four for Cottage Publications, Northern Ireland, including Inishowen, Donegal Islands and the Islands of Connaught. Her latest, Roosters & Hens, is a 'coffee table' production with over 90 illustrations of different breeds, with a lively and informative text by American Rare Breeds Farmer, Suze Craig.

Ros has won many awards for her work in public juried shows, and has had paintings commissioned and bought by public and private organisations.
